

TEST BEFORE YOU INVEST!

RocNet's virtual labs offer trial services for most solutions

RocNet Supply's testing facilities, coupled with the experience of our in-house engineering team, are huge benefits for our customers.

RocNet has two on site test labs – one in our Rochester, NY headquarters and one in our Reno, NV facility. Our testing facilities house over 30 different platforms from more than a dozen different manufacturers and can simulate a network from its core all the way to the customer premise.

Testing services we offer:

- Trial services for nearly all of the products we sell
- Remote access to our labs
- Use of any of our stock hardware for testing
- Consultations with our experienced team of in-house engineers
- Full testing with detailed serialized reporting

Our lab capabilities continue to grow as we incorporate the latest and greatest technologies available on the market, test new solutions, compare them to similar equipment, test interoperability, and push potential solutions to their capacity limits.

We'd love to let you try out your next new idea on our hardware in our facility, risk-free.
